

Members of the Daisy Chain

Members of the Daisy Chain are voluntary contributors to the vision of Pushing Up The Daisies. Our vision is to link up members all over Scotland – and create our Daisy Chain.

As a Member of the Daisy Chain you would contribute as your availability, skills and interest determine in any of these areas

1. Publicise Pushing Up The Daisies in your local area generally, and also specific campaigns or events
2. Speak about Pushing Up The Daisies work to local community groups
3. Represent Pushing Up The Daisies at local/national awareness raising events and conferences.
4. Publicise the After The Last Breath course in your local area, and be a contact to discuss it with interested people
5. Facilitate local introductory workshops and “Round the Table” afternoons.
6. Telephone or face-to-face 1-1 support for the general public
7. Telephone or face-to-face 1-1 support for terminally ill people making imminent after death plans
8. Take part in Pushing Up The Daisies campaigns nationally and locally

As a Member of the Daisy Chain, we will provide you with

- materials for a home death demonstration kit
- ongoing telephone/zoom support
- free access to an annual education session
- printed informative leaflets & cards for publicising our work
- paperwork for recording 1-1 support/ after death planning
- an annual review session.

As a Member of the Daisy Chain we ask you to

- attend the After the Last Breath course (all 3 sessions), and complete most follow-up exercises
- attend a further online session on the Charity vision/objectives, available resources etc,
- write 200 words on why you want to become a Member of the Daisy Chain and what aspects of the work particularly interest you,
- provide 2 references,
- meet with a board member to discuss your interests and agree a way forward,
- sign up to the Daisy Chain Code of Conduct,
- attend an annual review session.

Also, if you are interested in advising people about after death preparations, we will ask you to complete a further assessment process.

If this commitment feels too much right now please speak to us about other ways you can become involved in supporting our work.
